DEVALERA'S ARMY

MONTREAL, April 17.—The army of Eamonn De Valera is across the Atlantic, says a special despatch from New York to the Montreal Star. Seven hundred and fifty Irishmen admitted to be such by several of their number, reached this country on the Carmania. Two hundred left the ship at Boston. All carried British passports countersigned by the Free State Government, which one immigrant confessed, was glad to get rid of them. Many of the men said frankly Ireland was too hot for them, that the Republicans were cornered and hundreds anxious to get going while the going was good. Those landing refused to give their names fearing vengeance by insurgent sympathizers on this side. The party, it was said, was taken aboard the Carmania at Queenstown under cover of darkness.

THE STORY OF THE TWENTY-NINTH

By Lt. Col. T. Nangle, C.F.

DURING the War it was constantly remarked that the "TWENTY-NINTH" possessed a "Unity" or "Divisional Spirit" unequalled by any other formation; a spirit that was constantly fostered by those in command from General to "Sub." This esprit de corps was always apparent but in action it became the very soul of the Division and its greatest fighting asset. "Ours" was the first Division to wear the Divisional sign and the only one entitled to its own "Badge of Honour."

Some years have elapsed since the Armistice but the "TWENTY-NINTH" lives in its organized Association. At first this included in its membership only a small proportion of those who served in the Division. Now local branches have been formed in various centres in the United Kingdom and in other parts of the Empire. These local branches have their Honorary Secretaries who deal with all branch details and funds, arrange entertainments, etc., but are linked together by the Honorary Secretary of the Association. In short there is now a Parent "TWENTY-NINTH" Association with London as its headquarters and many independent "TWENTY-NINTH" Associations with the same Organization but with local by-laws. Twice a year the Committee of the Association meets in London and any decisions arrived at are referred to the general meeting at the bi-annual Dinners and are ratified by a show of hands.

On the 30th November it was decided that as the historian appointed to write the history of the Division had been prevented by ill-health from doing so, the work was to be taken out of his hands. General de Lisle, who commanded the "TWENTY-NINTH" for nearly three years offered to write the accounts of that period of his command provided Generals Hunter-Weston and Cayley would assist to the extent of the period during which each commanded the Division.

This proposal was received with enthusiasm more so as it was definitely stated that this work is to be a human document and not a military history. It will have as its title "The Story of the TWENTY-NINTH" and will contain just a bare outline of historical events into which framework will be inserted stories of brave deeds and other items of interests which should not be allowed to pass into the regions beyond recall. "The Story of the TWENTY-NINTH" if it fulfils its object should be a book of intense interest to all connected with the Division as well as to the general public, and one that can be given boys of the next generation to show how the sons of our great Empire defended its liberty in the great World War. This results to which the Authors aspire, can only be reached if all ranks and all units send in detailed stories of brave deeds which should never be forgotten. Stories of V.C.'s are now recorded in detail but those of D.S.O.'s, M.C.'s, D.C.M.'s, M.M.'s and the innumerable brave acts that were never reported or rewarded are the stories that are required.

I understand the official Regimental history is now being written under a contract made by Mr. John R. Bennett, sometime Minister of Militia, with one F. A. MacKenzie who, I understand is now residing in Moscow where he is writing the history. Mr. MacKenzie had afternoon tea at Headquarters Mess on two occasions during the War. I am sure the outcome of his labours will be of great interest to the First Battalion, and also will be of great historical value; but we, as members of the Regiment, owe it to our Dead Comrades and to Newfoundland that the honoured place we held in the most famous of British Divisions should not pass into oblivion.

But besides our own history we must also have our place in the "Story of the TWENTY-NINTH." Only those who were through the mill know the price we paid and we owe it to posterity that that price should be recorded. There are hundreds of stories connected with the Regiment which should be recorded and it is the duty of those who know them to pass them along to me. Those stories fall into two classes:

- (a) Deeds of heroism and gallantry;
- (b) Tales of wit and humour.

I now make an appeal to all ex-soldiers to send me short stories of their own adventures or of the gallant deeds of others which they witnessed; also items that appealed to their sense of humour. During the past four years I have collected a mass of material from War Office Records, from note books of General Officers Commanding, newspaper files, and contemporary war histories. But to make our history and the story of the Twenty-Ninth a success it is absolutely necessary to have that personal touch which will make the reader feel that he is reading the story of red blooded men not the manoeuvring of pawns in the huge game of war.

If you are a busy man and have not time to write please drop into the G.W.V.A. Office and your story will be taken and edited.

CHAPTER XXVI

"And you look surprised," his father cautioned—"for as if you failed to comprehend what he's driving at. Make him repeat. Then you say: 'Oh, that! Why, that's nothing, Mr. Ogilvy. I found the telegram in those papers you left with me, read it, and concluded you'd left it there to give me the dope so I could go ahead and get the franchise for you. Up here, whenever anybody wants a franchise from the city, they always hire an attorney to get it for them, so I didn't think anything about this, but just naturally went and got it for you. If it ain't right, why, say so and I'll have it made right.'" Old Poundstone nudged his son in the short ribs and winked drolly. "Let him get the idea you're a fly bird and on your job."

"Leave it to yours truly," said Henry. His father carefully made a copy of the telegram.

"H'm! he grunted. 'Wants to cross Water Street at B. and build out Front Street. Well, I dare say nobody will kick over the traces at that. Nothing but warehouses and lumber-drying yards along there, anyhow. Still, come to think of it, Pennington will probably raise a howl about sparks from the engines of the N.C.O. setting his lumber piles afire. And he won't relish the idea of that crossing, because that maps a watchman and safety-gates, and he'll have to stand half the cost of that."

"He'll be dead against it," Henry declared. "Now, because at the Wednesday meeting of the Lumber Manufacturers' Association the subject of the N.C.O. came up, and Pennington made a talk against it. He said the N.C.O. ought to be discouraged, if it was a legitimate enterprise, which he doubted, because the most feasible and natural route for a road would be from Willis, Mendocino County, north to Seoula. He, the N.C.O. didn't tap the main body, the redwood-belt, and that his own road could be extended to act as a feeder to a line that would build in from the south. I tell you he's dead set against it."

Then we won't tell him anything about it, Henry. We'll just put off this special session of the council and forget to invite the reporters. After the job has been put over, Pennington can come around and howl at us. We're not letting a chance like this slip by us without a bang, a handful of the tail-feathers, Henry. No, sir, not if we know it."

"You bet!" said Henry. "The entire council was present with the exception of Thatcher, who was home sick. His running mate Yates was heavily in favour of doing all and sundry of those things which would aid and encourage the building of the road. He desired railroad and offered objection to the motion to grant a sixty-day temporary franchise. However, he always played ball with the absent Thatcher and he was fairly well-acquainted with his other colleagues on the council; where they were concerned he was as suspicious as a rattlesnake in August—in consequence of which he considered it policy to play safe pending Thatcher's recovery. Rising in his place, he pointed to the board the fact that many prominent citizens who yearned for such a road as the N.C.O. had warned him of the danger of lending official aid and comfort to a passel of professional and fly-by-nights; that after all, the N.C.O. might merely be the stalking-horse to a real-estate boom planned to unload the undesirable timber holdings of the Trinidad Redwood Lumber Company, in which event it might be well for the council to proceed with caution. It was Mr. Yates' opinion that for the present a temporary franchise for thirty days only should be given; that during that thirty days the N.C.O. exhibited no reliable signs of activity, he would gladly vote for a thirty-day extension to enable the matter to be put to a permanent franchise to be taken up in regular order. This amendment to the original motion met with the unqualified approval of the Mayor, as he was careful to announce for the benefit of the other members of the Solid Four. The fact of the matter was, however, that he was afraid to oppose Yates in such a simple matter though fear that Yates might grow cantankerous and carry his troubles to the Sequoia Sentinel—a base trick he had been known to do in the past. After explaining the advisability of keeping secret for the present the fact that a thirty-day franchise had been granted, His Honour, with the consent of the maker of the original motion and the second thereof, submitted the amended motion to a vote, which was carried unanimously.

At eleven-thirty Thursday morning, therefore, young Henry Poundstone, having worked the greater part of the previous night preparing the deeds delivered both deeds and franchise to Buck Ogilvy at the latter's hotel. It was with difficulty that the latter could conceal his tremendous amazement when Henry casually handed him the franchise. True, he had slipped that fake telegram among the contracts as bait for Henry and his father, but his wildest flights had not looked for them to swallow hook, line, and sinker. His fondest hope, at the time he conceived the brilliant idea, was that Henry would show the telegram to his father and thus inculcate in the old gentleman a friendly feeling toward the N.C.O. not unmixed with pleasurable anticipations of the day when Henry Poundstone, Junior, should be one of the most highly prized members of the legal staff of a public-service corporation.

When he could control his emotions, Mr. Ogilvy gazed approvingly upon Henry Poundstone. "Mr. Poundstone," he said solemnly, "I have met some meteoric young attorneys in my day, but you're the first genuine comet I have seen in the legal firmament. Do you mind telling me exactly how you procured this franchise—and why you procured it without explicit orders from me?"

Henry did his best to look puzzled. "Why," he said, "you left that telegram with me, and I concluded that you regarded it as safe-explanatory or else had forgotten to mention it. I knew you were busy, and I didn't want to bother you with details, so I just went ahead and filled the order for you. Anything wrong about that?"

"Certainly not. It's perfectly wonderful. But how did you put it over?"

Henry smirked. "My dad's the engineer," he said bluntly. "If thirty days ain't enough time, see me and I'll get you thirty days more. And in the meantime nobody knows a thing about this little deal. What's more, they won't know. I figured Colonel Pennington might try to block you at that crossing, so I—"

Buck Ogilvy extended his hand in benediction and let it drop lightly on Henry Poundstone's thin shoulder. Henry quivered with anticipation under that gentle accolade and swallowed his heart while the great Ogilvy made a portentous announcement.

"My dear Poundstone," he said earnestly, "I am not a man to forget clever work. At this proper time I shall—"

He smiled his radiant smile. "You understand, of course, that I am speaking for myself and can make you no firm promises. However—"

He smiled again. "All I have to say is that you'll do!"

"Thank you," said Henry Poundstone, Junior. "Thank you ever so much."

CHAPTER XXVII

An experience extending over a very active business career of thirty years had convinced Colonel Seth Pennington of the futility of wracking his brains in vain speculation over mysteries. In his day he had been interested in some small public-service corporations, which is tantamount to saying that he knew peanut politics and had learned that the very best way to fight the devil is with fire. Frequently he had found it of great interest and profit; to him took now exactly how certain men spent their money and his money, and since he was a very busy man himself naturally he had to delegate somebody else to procure this information for him. When, therefore, the Northern California Oregon Railroad commenced to encroach on the Colony's time-appropriation for sleep, he realized that there was but one way in which to conserve his rest, and that was by engaging so fathom the mysteries. In times gone by, the Colonel had found a certain national detective-agency an extremely efficient aid to well-known commercial agencies, and to these tried and true subordinates he turned now for explicit and satisfying information about the Northern California Outrage!

The information forthcoming from Dun's and Bradstreet's was vague and unsatisfying. Neither of these two commercial agencies could ascertain anything of interest regarding the finances of the N.C.O. For the present the corporation had no office, its destinies in San Francisco being guarded by a well-known attorney who had declined to make any statement regarding the company but promised one at an early date. The board of directors consisted of this attorney, his two assistants, his stenographer, and Mr. Buchanan Ogilvy. The company had been incorporated for five million dollars, divided into five million shares of par value of one dollar each, and fiveshares had been subscribed! Both agencies forwarded copies of the articles of incorporation, but since the Colonel had already read this document in the Sequoia Sentinel, he was not further interested.

"It looks fishy to me," the Colonel commented to his manager, "and I'm more than ever convinced it's a scheme of that Trinidad Redwood Timber Company to start a timber-boom and unload. And that is something the Laguna Grande Lumber Company does not view with favour, for the reason that one of these bright days those Trinidad people will come to their senses and sell cheap to us. A slight extension of our logging-road will make that Trinidad timber accessible; hence we are the only logical customers and should control the situation. However, to be sure is to be satisfied. Telephone the San Francisco office to have the detective-agency that handled the longshoremen's strike job for us send a couple of their best operatives up on the next steamer, with instructions to report to me on arrival."

LITTLE CATALINA HAD BIG LIBERAL DEMONSTRATION

(Special to The Advocate)
LITTLE CATALINA, April 17.—Little Catalina had the pleasure last night of witnessing a wonderful demonstration of loyalty to the cause of Liberalism as meeting was held in the spacious Orange Hall, and at 8 o'clock the strains of stirring music was wafted to our ears and the firing of guns and cheering of loyal supporters announced that the S. S. F. P. Union was steaming in the harbour gaily bedecked with bunting, bringing the Liberal candidates Mr. Hibbs and Capt. Randell. Nearly a hundred friends from Port Union and Catalina, with brass band, accompanied the candidates. Capt. Joseph T. Johnson was moved to the chair and the Union delegate was invited to the platform. The speakers expressed regret that Hon. Mr. Halfyard was not present, but would likely see them on Wednesday. The speeches for straight forward, manly, convincing argument was the best heard here for a long time. Capt. Randell handled some of the so-called scandals in fine style, and his explanation of the fish regulations was very interesting, and thanked the people for splendid reception given. Mr. Hibbs followed in a speech of one hour and forty-five minutes. He was in splendid form and was forced to stop speaking until the wholehearted cheering subsided. The Tory document of abuse, misrepresentation and deceit which has been given by J. R. Bennett and styled a manifesto was exposed and literally torn to shreds. The band furnished appropriate selections after each speech. Mr. Boone was last speaker and in his usual best and forcefully style made a splendid impression on those present. The meeting closed at 12 o'clock with the National Anthem and ringing cheers for Halifax, Hibbs and Randell, Sir Richard Squires, Mr. Coaker and the chairman. Little Catalina is solidly in line with practically every other town in the district and will poll at least 90 per cent. for the Liberal winning team.

Longing For The Day When The Squires Policy Will Be Set On Foot

The Cashin-Crosbie-Tory Merchant Party have nothing to offer the people. That is the conclusion reached by the general public, particularly after reading that document which is called Bennett's Manifesto, but which was evidently written by Mr. A. B. Morine.

The people did not expect anything from the Opposition Party, whose name is destruction and blue ruin. If they had conducted themselves since their defeat in November, 1919, as gentlemen on the floors of the House of Assembly and had faithfully served the country by assisting the Government in every way possible, the people might have expected something of promise from them. Instead, they hung'er down and revelled in rowdism until the country became disgusted with them and sickened with them, and the people do not expect, nor ever will expect anything from that same self-discredited outfit.

All of which leads to the question, "What can the people do but elect the Government of Sir Richard Squires?" Sir Richard Squires offers the people a clear-cut and definite policy formulated in the epoch of the same Cashin-Crosbie Opposition. That policy does mean something practical and material for every man, woman and child in Newfoundland and is worth invaluable much more to every Newfoundland than the "hang'er down" policy of destruction pursued by Cashin and his associates since they were driven out of office.

The Humber Development Policy is what the people want all over the country. Every fisherman and working man wants the chance to live prosperously and independently in his own country. He does not want to leave his own land and seek work across the Gulf among strangers. He wants to work in Newfoundland and earn wages in Newfoundland, and build up her industries, which will give permanent labour and bring the trade of the world to Newfoundland people.

That is why Newfoundlanders at home and abroad are longing for the day when the Humber and its dependent industries will swing into operation and when the interior will flourish with the growth of industry. Not a letter which comes from Newfoundlanders in Boston or New York or anywhere where Newfoundlanders are working, but expresses the wish to their parents that Sir Richard Squires' great program with Great Britain will very soon be started in full swing.

That will make possible their return home. These workers may have been now working on the Humber operations but for the deep-seated hostility towards the Humber policy on the part of that combination who are asking the public to put them in office and yet have no policy to offer to the working men.

The Humber means bringing an industry worth approximately twenty million dollars into the country, which industry will mean upwards of ten million dollars as wages to erect and will mean at least three million dollars yearly revenue to Newfoundland. This will relieve the fisheries very considerably. The fishermen and working men for centuries have been bearing on their backs the burdens of the whole country. It is quite understandable why Water Street merchants are satisfied to let them still bear the burden. Indeed, it is understood why they are prepared to go into politics with men of the Cashin-Crosbie class in order to see that the fishermen and working men are still kept in the same position so that they can use them for their own purposes.

Now, that day must soon end. The burden must be shifted as much as possible from the fisheries, that is from the fishermen. Workingmen all over the country will be given a chance to get permanent employment and cash wages on the land. They will be able to choose between industrial employment and the fisheries or they may still pursue the fisheries in fishing months and avail of cash-earning employment for the rest of the twelve months. Every Newfoundland will see that this departure from the old rut is something worth while, something practical and material for every man, woman and child in the Island. It is no wonder everybody is saying that the Humber Government of Sir Richard Squires will be returned on May 3rd.

The policy of development will mean that further reduction of taxation will be possible, that our children will be educated and that the fishermen will receive benefits and assistance infinitely greater than the bluff of a bounty, which, according to Mr. Higgins, would mean the giving of a million and a half dollars to the merchants for their manipulation, all of which the people would have to pay for in extra taxes.

How would they pay it with no Humber policy to give them work and wages? And what would happen to fishermen and working men if they did not have the policy of Sir Richard Squires to help them after May 3rd.

STONE AND HICKMAN EXPERIENCED THE JOYS OF LIFE IN HALIFAX FOR TWELVE DAYS AND CHARGED THE COLONY WITH ELEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR IT

Sometime ago we astonished our readers by telling them of a little trip which the Tories, J. G. Stone and A. E. Hickman, took to Halifax in 1918.

They went to attend some Fisheries Convention, and were absent twelve days, in which they were the guests of the Canadian people and were dined and wine to their hearts' content, each of them making a speech during the sessions of the Convention.

Well, after they returned they sent in a bill for expenses amounting to $550.00, FIVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS EACH! Just like Hickman, somebody says, but what about Stone, whom Cashin calls "Honest" John Stone?

Where in the world did all this money go? How on earth could Stone and Hickman spend $550.00 each on twelve-day trip to Halifax at the Government's expense?

Let us try and figure it out. Give each of them for passage money $100.00, which must be far in excess of what it really cost, because if they used the Railway they had free passes.

Give them eight days at Halifax at ten dollars per day; give them cigar money twenty dollars; and give them another fifty dollars for joy rides, "mild" beverages such as both are used to, and other incidentals of a pleasure trip.

That makes Passage	$100.00
Board	80.00
Cigars	20.00
Joys of Life	50.00
	$250.00

EACH OF THEM CHARGED $550.00.

The fishermen, who toil for all the year for five or six hundred dollars, will want to know if that is Stone's idea of taking care of the people's money.

They want to know if the sweat on their brows, because of the incessant work to pay the heavy taxes on all they eat and wear, is there because John Stone and Hickman went to Halifax on a picnic and spent between them Eleven Hundred Dollars.

Doesn't it make your blood boil to think of John Stone, on the excuse that he was going on the country's business, putting in a bill of $550.00 for a twelve day trip to Halifax?

Now what did Stone and Hickman do with the balance?

We know that a gentleman visited Canada and the United States recently, was absent six weeks, stayed at good hotels, and it only cost him about $500.00.

At that rate Stone and Hickman's trip should have cost about $170.00. Then sent in a bill each for $550.00.

Now on what did they spend the balance?

We have had Hickman on keeping up the price of salt for the miserable profit he loves; we have had him billing the poor F. P. U. for sixty dollars for small expenses of his election campaign in 1913; we have had him falling out with a soldier about a typewriter, and now we have him taking $550.00 of the people's money for a picnic to Halifax. How on earth can people travel if it costs $550.00 to go to Halifax and back?

Electorals of Trinity, ask J. G. Stone to tell you how he spent every cent of his money, and ask him to explain how a poor man can go to Halifax and back for less than $150.00, and why Stone and Hickman grabbed $550.00 each for the same trip.

Cashin's Apologist

WHO ARE REALLY THE BOOZE
RINGSTERS?

Mr. Charlie Hunt appeared as Sir M. P. Cashin's apologist at last night's meeting on the South Side. Mr. Hunt wants dear Sir Michael absolved as a booze dispenser. Why, Cashin himself boasted on the floors of the House of Assembly, that he gave away booze enough to float a ship, but did not drink it himself. What do the mothers and sisters, who have their loved ones fond of strong drink think of the man who engages in such a traffic? What kind of a mind must he have and what is his purpose, when he plays the role of tempter. There is

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

"Where is my hat?" cries the boy.

"What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter.

"I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband.

The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said that he could do nothing for me, owing to my condition. My husband's grandmother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it right away, and everyone noticed what a different woman I was in a short time, and able to do my work."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGee Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Cumberland Bay, N.B.—"I was troubled with weak feelings, headache all the time, a cough, fainting spells and pains in my back and sides. I could not do a single bit of work and had to be helped out to the hammock, and I had to be carried up and down stairs. After other medicines had failed, a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she said it was excellent for any one in the family way. Before the first bottle was taken I could walk alone and as I kept on with it I got stronger, until I was able to do all my work. My baby is a big, fat, healthy fellow."—Mrs. MURRAY J. BARTON, R.R. Gaelic League

The regular weekly meeting of the Gaelic League was held last night. The election of officers left over from last week, was completed, Mr. J. J. St. John being elected Corresponding Secretary and Mr. James O'Neil Conroy Auditor.

A very interesting and instructive paper was read by Mr. M. J. James on Robert Emmett. The paper began with the life of Emmett as a student in Trinity College, Dublin and told of his romance with Miss Curran, which Moore has made immortal in his song "She is far from the land." In his association with the United Irishmen and his struggles towards freedom which finally led to his arrest and execution. Mr. James concluded with the wish that the Irish race in Newfoundland would, at some not far distant date, be associated with the riting of Emmett's epitaph.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the lecturer on the motion of Mr. D. O'Quinn. It was decided to have the following subject for debate at the next meeting to be held on Monday 23rd, inst. "Resolved, that the Prohibition Law is a success in Newfoundland."

Ex-Service Men's Reunion

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR AND LT.-COL. NANGLE WILL DELIVER ADDRESSES.

On Friday, April 20th at 8.30 p.m. a concert and smoker will be held in the Grenfell Hall for ex-service men. His Excellency the Governor will deliver an address, Lt.-Col. Nangle, (C.E.), will also speak. Song sheets, which include many old familiar Regimental and Naval songs, will be provided. Ex-Service artists have signified their intention of contributing to the enjoyment of the evening.

The attendance will no doubt be large, as this is the first time that His Excellency has made an address of this kind to ex-service men. Lt.-Col. Nangle is too well known to ex-service men to make further comment necessary and it cannot be gainsaid that his presence will be welcomed by all. Admission is free and there will be no collection.

ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1923.

The Tory Labrador Bluff

The Tories are every day spreading lies. One of the basest of these is that Coaker would sell Labrador to Canada. The Tories twist this into all possible shapes and say that Labrador fishing will be barred and that Labrador fishermen will not be allowed to fish there.

This is a confounded falsehood, and the Tories must think the fishermen are fools to believe yarns like that. Anyone with horse sense knows that no country, British or foreign, will be allowed to take a single fishing coast from the fishermen. Canada will never get Labrador right. If Canada wants to buy out the bit of Labrador in dispute let it come across with the offer, but the land in dispute has nothing to do with the coast and is only a very small part of Labrador. Don't be bluffed by the desperate yarns spread by the Cashin Tory Merchant Party.

Bennett and Hickman and Crosbie

THREE MINISTERS OF MILITIA

WHAT IS THEIR RECORD?

As soon as Morris resigned, and the prop that held Bennett up was taken away, he (Bennett) fell to the ground. He resigned from the Colonial Secretaryship, but crawled back under Lloyd and accepted the position of Minister of Militia.

What is Bennett's record?

As soon as Conscription was passed he sneaked away to England so that he would not be bothered about the Military Service Act problems. He did this against the wishes of his Premier, and the executive, and was roasted good and brown by the Daily News for going away. The returned men even wanted him stopped from going.

Then "Militia Bennett" went to England, had a jolly good time, got himself photographed in all shapes and positions in France and elsewhere, and came home.

Next action of Bennett's was told best by the Daily News when it tore him to bits because he kept the boys so long shivering on board the S. S. Corsican when they returned home from the war, while, it is said, Bennett was enjoying the comforts and luxuries of the ship's saloon.

That is Militia Bennett's Record.

Next came Militia Crosbie, who owes the blood-stained fields of France for the wealth that he parades to-day. One and a half million dollars was his grab while in the Government, and he has reason to go down on his knees to the Kaiser, that is, if he feels proud of his money-bags, filled during the war.

Crosbie had the audacity to become Minister of Militia, but he did nothing but draw the salary. It was an insult to every mother's son that went across to put Crosbie in such a position.

Next comes "Militia" Hickman, who was made Minister as he wanted a few pickings. He got them alright, and there was much left when Albert was finished. His career, there is no doubt, is the fact that when Lt. Col. Nangle asked the Government of $100,000 for six memorials, which would cost £1000 each, it was "Militia" Hickman who telegraphed back granting £100 for each of the war memorials, just one-tenth of the sum required.

These three "Militia" men, who never saw a gun fired in a war, are now posing as country saviors. The electors of Mr. Grace and Bay de Verde have decided that it is time for them to get out of public life, and the whole country heaves a fervent "Amen" to that decision.

Valleyfield Answers Monroe

Monroe Could Not Speak and Meeting Was One Continuous Roar of Cheers for Coaker

The reception given Monroe and Little at Valleyfield is Valleyfield's answer to the organized attempt of the Morine-Tory heeler to cause trouble against Messrs. Coaker, Winsor and Abbott and their many supporters who in Greenspond turned out in parade to welcome the victorious Government team.

When Mr. Coaker was at Valleyfield he asked the people to give Mr. Monroe and colleagues a good hearing. For this straightforward conduct, an attempt, which miserably failed, was made by heeler in Greenspond to cause trouble.

Valleyfield's stand was a spontaneous one, as the Greenspond incident has set ablaze the Union spirit in Bonavista Bay.

But there was no rowdiness or attack; and Mr. Monroe was allowed to leave unmolested by men who resent the Greenspond incident, engineered by those who always opposed Mr. Coaker.

The same treatment was accorded Mr. Monroe at Cape Freels.

The Opposition team, who have set out to down Pres. Coaker and his following, will now realise the mistake made at Greenspond.

The North is solid as the rock of Gibraltar.

Advices from Valleyfield say that kindly. They acted as they did as Monroe attempted a meeting there last night and audience refused to permit either speaker to say anything and kept a constant roar of cheers for Coaker. Mr. Sturge, of behalf of Monroe, asked that he be permitted to leave the hall uninjured. This was of course granted. Valleyfield was asked by Mr. Coaker at his meeting to give Monroe a hearing and treat him

Bonavista Refutes the Tory Lies

Coaker, Abbott and Winsor Will Win by Large Majorities

(Special to The Advocate) BONAVISTA, April 18. — Last night's F. P. U. meeting here will not soon be forgotten. Members rallied to the ranks in large numbers. Fully 450 loyal supporters of the Squires-Coaker Party were present and nearly 50 were enrolled. Bonavista Council possesses a paid up membership of 650 and each member is prepared to stand firm as Gibraltar and vote the straight ticket for Coaker, Abbott and R. G. Winsor. The Council was favoured with a visit from Mr. H. W. Quinton of Port Union and three of the crew of the F. P. U. namely Capt. Rideout, Engineer Pelley and Matt Quinton. These three gentlemen were in company with President Coaker on his campaign north and each gave

West End Laborers Insulted In Tory Pamphlet

Last night at the West End Committee Rooms, the Prime Minister, Dr. Campbell and Mr. Fitzgibbon, delivered stirring campaign speeches. The canvassers reported splendid results and every thing points to a splendid victory. A Tory circular in which the laborers of the West End are referred to as the Bums of the Slums, came into the hands of the Prime Minister recently. He pointed out who were the owners of the slums in which the workers of St. John's were compelled to live. The shacks into which the people were compelled to live were owned by the scions of noble families, who were associated with the Tory Water Street Merchant Party. Ground to the dust and compelled to live in hovels, the working man saw the scions roll by in their cars. Where did they get it? Out of the fishermen and laborers. This was the Cashin-Crosbie-Ayre-Monroe party, which wanted to get this NID of ours under the thumb screw of the codfish aristocracy. Driven by necessity the Tory Merchants announce they want to take charge of the Legislature. Will Newfoundlanders permit them, certainly not. The last resort of Toryism in St. John's West, both in their newspapers, pamphlets and platform utterances is vilification and abuse of Coaker. Devoid of a policy, nothing remains but to poison the minds of the people against the fisherman's friend; but St. John's West gave its answer to the Grafters in 1919 and 1920. In a more emphatic manner will it repudiate on May 3rd, the attempt to strangle the policy of development which Premier Squires has inaugurated for this Newfoundland of ours.

Hr. Grace Demands Apology From McKay

INSULTING REFERENCES TO MR. PICCOTT ARE DEEPLY RESENTED.

(Special to The Advocate) HARBOR GRACE, April 18.—When the Liberal Committee meeting opened here last night there were over two hundred active committee members present. After the remarks of the Chairman, Mr. Herbert Andrews, called the attention of the meeting to a message appearing in The Daily Mail from Brigus, and signed by a number of well known people of that town, describing the very insulting remarks and actions of one W. A. McKay, a candidate for the Cashin-Buch in Part de Grave District, belittling and insulting our highly respected senior candidate, Arch W. Piccott, Minister of Public Works, himself a native of Cupids, Port de Grave District.

The meeting here was at once turned into an indignation gathering. Scores of additional voters came in and it became a gathering of public protest against such outrageous buffoonery. It was proposed by Mr. Albert Rogers, seconded by Mr. Woodley French and supported by Mr. D. F. Meaney, that Resolutions be passed demanding from McKay an immediate and public apology for his outrageously insulting and absolutely unjustifiable remarks and conduct. The Resolutions were put to the meeting and were adopted unanimously by a standing vote.

In view of the fact that Mr. Piccott has no connection whatever with McKay's District, and is not interfering in any way with McKay's interests, this attack can only be interpreted as being provoked by the fact that Piccott and his colleagues are bringing certain defeat to Bennett and his associates in Harbor Grace District. If any other significance is to be attached to the outrage it is to be interpreted as the low, mean tactics by which McKay hopes to appeal to a certain class of voters in his own district, and because of the fact that Mr. Piccott is a Grand Master of the Loyal Orange Association of Newfoundland.

Men of McKay's methods, we are glad to say, belong to the Opposition Camp, and it is up to every lover of fair play and good fellowship to keep such men out of the People's House. Mr. Piccott's disability is the Act of God, and even Mr. McKay is in the hands of the Creator. Let us assure McKay that Mr. Piccott is still very much alive and the People are stronger than ever behind him. Piccott's loyal, true-hearted friendship wins and holds men. McKay's dirty tongue and abuse of his fellowman will bring him what he deserves—defeat. Last night's meeting here was representative of all classes. Mr. Rogers, who proposed the indignation Resolutions, is a leading member of the Church of England; Mr. Woodley French is a member of the Methodist Church, and Mr. D. F. Meaney is a Roman Catholic.

The meeting was spontaneous and not inspired, because all our candidates were absent from town, holding a meeting in Bay Roberts.

HR. GRACE, April 18.—The following resolutions were passed by a standing vote of all present in the Liberal Committee room this town last night. Over two hundred people were present.

RESOLVED—That the meeting convey to the Liberal Committee of Brigus their absolute indignation of the remarks of W. A. McKay concerning our respected senior candidate, Mr. A. W. Piccott, and that the following messages be sent the first thing in the morning to the Liberal Committee of Brigus:

[Please Convey to your Committee the indignation of the Liberal Committee of Harbor Grace in meeting assembled as expressed by all standing vote of all those present, regarding the insulting remarks and actions of W. A. McKay, the Bennett candidate for your district, concerning our Senior candidate, Mr. A. W. Piccott. This Committee is demanding an immediate and public apology from that person for said remarks.]

Copies of this resolution and of telegram sent to Mr. McKay will appear in Daily Mail and Advocate today. (Signed)—Herbert Andrews, Chairman, James A. Power, Secretary.

The following message was sent to W. A. McKay, Brigus:

The Committee of the Liberal party of Harbor Grace proper, to the number of two hundred, in meeting assembled express their indignation of your insulting remarks at the meeting in Brigus Saturday night, the 14th inst., concerning our highly respected Senior candidate, Mr. Arch. Piccott, and all do hereby demand from you, an immediate and public apology for your insulting words and actions towards him.

HERBERT ANDREWS, Chairman.

JAMES A. POWER, Secretary.

BRIGUS STRONG FOR WINTER

Brigus, April 11, 1923.

The Editor, The Evening Advocate, St. John's.

Dear Sir,—Please insert these few lines as it is my first time writing to any paper in my life. I am writing this to let everyone know that Mr. Winter our good little member made his first speech here to-night at the Orange Hall, and I want all readers to know that he delivered one of the best speeches ever offered from any public platform here in this town, and I can say that no man ever got such a good hearing, as the same gentleman got here to-night. The hall was full and I can say that the same gentleman did give every man in public life today due respect, and spoke well of everyone, and I can say that there were lots of people said, "Well! what is that little fellow going to say or tell us? We have always been used to big men with 'small doings' until now, but now have a small man with something good up his sleeve for every right thinking man, so I can say to all that if Mr. Winter had fifty votes before the meeting, he had three fifths at ten p.m. the same night. I hope every place in this district will give that gentleman as good reception as did good old Brigus to-night. Go on, Sir, fight the good fight. Of course it is no good now-a-days to advertise unless a person can produce the goods. So, Mr. Editor, our member certainly got the goods this time.

St. Brendan's Back Government

ST. BRENDAN'S, April 17.—In the greatest meeting ever held here, President Coaker, R. G. Winsor and John Abbott arrived here on Monday night, April 9th, from Gooseberry Island and held a public meeting in the Union Hall. The hall was crowded and was wonderful enthusiastic. The meeting was the best ever held at St. Brendan's. The speakers were greatly applauded and the meeting closed at two o'clock in the morning, with cheers for Coaker, Abbott, and Winsor and the Humber, which made the Humber ring. The people want the Humber and will back Coaker and the government to initiate the Humber and the great copper development. The governments policy can't lose.

Cashin and Booze

LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH!

Mr. C. E. Hunt last night referred to the fact that "the Mail accused Sir M. P. Cashin of distributing booze in the West End." Mr. Hunt inferred that this was abuse and not true.

Why not let us have more information than that about it? Let Sir M. P. Cashin say whether he or his son Peter, is an agent for whiskey or other liquor?

Let Sir M. P. Cashin say whether he sells liquor as an agent to the Controller?

Further, let Sir M. P. Cashin explain why he said in the House of Assembly that WHILE HE DID NOT DRINK ANY LIQUOR, HE HAD GIVEN AWAY ENOUGH TO FLOAT A SHIP.

Let Cashin answer instead of making up script stories. Cashin's own script for a case of whiskey is already in evidence.

Liberal Trio Hold Rousing Meeting at Cove Road School House

The victorious Liberal trio, Bartlett, Bailey and Burke, held a rousing meeting in the School House on the Cove Road last night. This section was ablaze with old time Liberal enthusiasm. Volleys of musketry greeted the candidates on arrival. Mr. George Tucker was Chairman. One hundred and fifty voters were present. The change which has swept over St. John's East is unmistakable and the loyal old district is day by day giving certain evidence that it intends to be with Squires on Polling Day. Higgins has got down to a personal fight to save himself. He recognizes his two colleagues cannot be dragged through this time. Tonight there will be a meeting at Major's Path at which Mr. Henry Butler will preside.

St. Joseph's Welcomes Bonina, Bindon, Brown

Placentia and St. Mary's Will Be in the Winning Squires Govt
This Time

(To the Editor.)
Dear Sir.—I cannot allow the present occasion to pass, without writing a few words, to express, in common with so many others in this district, my appreciation of the advent amongst us of Capt. Bonina and his two colleagues, Messrs. Bindon and Brown. It is a source of great pleasure to behold again a time when the Liberal banner, so nobly upheld in the past, is borne again in the district by one so capable as Capt. Bonina. I have known Capt. Thomas Bonina for many years, and am sure I make no mistake in saying that the destinies of our people of Placentia and St. Mary's could not be in safer hands. He comes amongst us as an old friend. With the brilliant record of Mr. Brown we are all familiar, as well as with the business ability of Mr. Bindon. We feel that our destinies are safe in their hands, and agreeably honoured by their coming amongst us.

On the night of the 11th inst., we had the pleasure of a visit from the three representatives of the Liberal party. They held a meeting in the Parish Hall, which was crowded for the occasion. Mr. Joseph Norris acted as Chairman. Capt. Bonina was the first speaker. In an eloquent address he placed the policy of Sir Richard Squires before the audience. He explained clearly and lucidly what the Humber deal was, and what the benefits to Nfld would be. No one could deny that it would be a wonderful supplement to our uncertain fisheries. Mr. Bindon followed and impressed his hearers very favourably by his masterly address. He referred to the worldwide depression which existed after the Great War, and in which Nfld. had her share. That Nfld. did participate to such an extent in this depression was mistakenly attributed ed by the Opposition members to the fact that the affairs of the country were in charge of the Hon. Sir R. A. Squires and the members of his Cabinet. (It is passing strange that those parts of the world where Squires and Coaker held no sway did not "blossom like the rose the while"). At the conclusion of Mr. Bindon's address, Mr. Brown took the floor, and gave a detailed account of the projected Humber Valley deal and the benefits that would accrue to Nfld from it. His address was listened to with rapt attention by the audience. At the conclusion of each speaker's address they were roundly cheered. It has been a long time since I have had the pleasure of listening to such sincere speeches utterly free from vituperation, spite or jealousy. As Capt. Bonina remarked at the beginning of his address, "They began this campaign clear and intend to keep it clean."

What a contrast the speeches of the Opposition party on the following night. From beginning to end they vilified Sir R. A. Squires, and the Party until the audience were thoroughly tired of listening to them. Mr. Coaker came in for an especial share, and of course the blame of their own broken promises (the placing of a fog alarm on Pt. La Have) was laid to his charge. But, Sir R. A. Squires, and Hon. W. F. Coaker, Capt. Bonina and his colleagues can afford to snap their fingers at the vituperation of Messrs. Walsh, Sullivan and Sinnott. They have not heard the prosperity of Nfld. and when Polling Day comes round the electors of Placentia and St. Mary's will show this trio that they will vote for Bonina, Bindon and Brown, and that Squires Will Win.

Yours truly
TRUE BLUE,
St. Joseph's, April 13th, 1923.

SQUIRES POLICY OF REAL WORTH

(Special to The Advocate)

LONG PT., via Carmanville.—Mr. Grimes, the Liberal Candidate, addressed a meeting of voters at this place on Saturday night, getting an enthusiastic reception. All were deeply interested in the development policy of the Squires Government, and give it credit for accomplishing something of real worth. We accept the reputation of the Armstrong Whitworth Co. as a guarantee that we are in for real development, that will mean the absorption of the larger number of our unemployed, and relieving the taxpayers of an onerous burden. Our best wishes for the return of the Squires Government.

NORMAN'S COVE WILL VOTE FOR THE LIBERALS

NORMAN'S COVE, March 28.—The Liberal Candidates Halcyon Hibbs and Capt. Randall held a public meeting to-night, and amidst applause unmasked the Tory party led by Cashin and Crosbie and a bunch of Water Street Tory merchants, with Bennett as a stalking horse. Chapel's Arm, Long Cove and Norman's Cove will poll a tremendous vote for the candidates of Sir Richard Squires' progressive and enterprising party. The great possibilities for the future as the result of the big Humber development was placed before the electorate, as well as the slack chapter of obstruction and destruction since 1919. We advise Stone, Hodder and the other Tory candidate to give this part of the District a wide berth. What did the Tory government do for? Not so our good Liberal party—they are always on the spot within a minute's notice. We will keep the Cashin-Crosbie-Bunch in their place if they come here.

Thanking you for valuable speech in your paper.

Yours truly

"I Avoided an Operation Appendicitis Disappeared"

Mrs. James Wells, Udora, Ont., writes:—

"I took a severe pain in my right side. It was very bad at times. I tried oils and tablets without gaining any relief. The doctor pronounced it chronic appendicitis. I dreaded an operation and a friend advised Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I used them and not only obtained relief from pain, but I believe it has completely freed me of appendicitis, as it is now over a year since I have had any of the old symptoms."

IRISH SMILES

SPORTSMAN'S LAUGHABLE EXPERIENCES.

An Englishman once took a large tract of shooting in the South of Ireland. The result of the first day's shooting was one snipe.

As there was so little sport, the man, being of a practical turn of mind, decided to return to England next day, and started to reckon up the cost of the trip. The amount came to £100. Turning to the gillie, who was trudging behind him carrying the one and only snipe, he remarked: "Well, Pat, that snipe cost £100."

"Begorra, yer honour," replied the gillie. "It's lucky you didn't shoot any more."

ON THE ROCKS

This is one of the stories told by Major A. W. Long in "Irish Sport of Yestery" (Hutchinson). Here are others:—

At one time the police in Ireland gave a large reward for information leading to the seizure of a "poteen" still, and as a result one man made a fortune. First he gave a contract to a travelling tinker to make a lot of stills at a low price, and, after leaving these stills in different places with the remains of a fire, would lodge his information and claim the reward.

An Irish pilot told the crew of a vessel of which he was in charge that he knew every rock on the coast for miles. "And there's one of them," he said, as the vessel struck a rock.

An old Irishman used to hide his bottle of Poigen in the bolster of the bed in his master's dressing-room. This hiding-place lasted him until one day the cork came out of the bottle and the master found his room reeking of poteen.

On these occasions he was always given notice, but invariably replied: "Don't be onaisy, sure I'll never leave ye"—and he never did!

Major Long's sister went to a certain Irish bath-house for a bath. She undressed and entered the shower-bath apartment, a kind of wooded box, pulled every string and wire she could find, but nothing happened. She then called the attendant, an old man. At once a voice came from a hole in the roof.

"Hi, miss, if ye'll turn the last bit in the world to the west ye'll do fine" —and followed his words by deeds in the form of boiling hot water from a large watering-can!

Major Long once nearly shot one of the men, who had a disagreeable habit of taking short cuts. When remonstrated with for suddenly sticking his head round a bush when the author was going to fire at a snipe, the man replied, with a laugh, "No danger, shoot away. I was watching your gun!"

BAIT FOR BEGGARS

On her return from a visit to Dublin, a young countrywoman, a Mrs. D—, gave herself great airs and told her maid, who always called her Mrs. Tom and her mother-in-law Mrs. D—, to call her Mrs. D—, and the old lady the dow-ager, with a strong accent on the middle syllable.

It was said this was the result of going to a cinema. The next time the author's sister called she asked if Mrs. D— was at home.

"Oh, no, me lady," replied the girl, "she's not in—but faith, the auld badger's below in the kitchen."

The author's brother nearly caused a riot one very hot day when out shooting by appearing in white flannel shirt. No sooner had shooting started than every man and boy within sight collected on high ground to watch the "mad English gentleman" who went out shooting in his underpants!

On another occasion the brother threw what he thought to be a "sixpence, but which was really a half-sovereign, to an old beggar woman. Instantly the old woman went down on her knees, calling down blessings upon him, and then she tried to embrace him, still expressing her gratitude. "To get rid of her, he threw a half-crown. By this time he was surrounded by almost all the beggars in the place, for like wildfire a report had run through the town that a mad Englishman had arrived and was scattering half-sovereigns!

Day by day
in every way,
Victory for
Squires, Campbell and Fitzgibbon,
Bartlett, Bulley and Burke is getting surer and surer.

The reception given the Three B's on Friday by the voters of the East End has put the wind up Higgins and his heels.

Higgins was so worried after the popular Liberal trio held their meeting and got such a reception at Torbay that he got one of his friends to telephone a prominent man in Torbay and find out if it was true.

The Three B's sure have Higgins worried this time.

Newfoundland cannot hope to go ahead with such a bunch as Higgins, Vinicombe and Fox looking after its affairs.

Billey Badly Beaten.

Billey got the surprise of his life when he heached Bell Island to see so many of his staunch supporters with the winning Squires crew.

Only on Bell Island once in four years, and that was to referee a foot ball match.

The truth is always the strongest argument Cyril J.

No need to worry about the East End Mr. Tel-gram. Higgins and his drags will meet their defeat soon enough.

Some of Higgins' friends had to get up on the platform at the meeting and give him a little encouragement; but the man that said Bell Island was with Higgins knew he was telling a falsehood.

Too bad some people don't get what they want.

Higgins thought one up a time that he could win in the East End by sitting in his office; but he knows he has got to get out and try and make the best of a bad job this time.

Down the Shore, the People roar
Bartlett, Bulley and Burke.

Higgins Fox and Vinicombe have such an interest in the East End that they didn't think it worth their while to visit the different settlements, not to speak of doing anything or making any improvements.

Don't go back to the meal and molasses Merchant Rule, men of the East End. That's what it means should Bennett be elected.

Work and Wages for five thousand men; that's Squires' policy.

Watch the Three B's sting.

Most of you men of the East End are not in the habit of seeing Higgins, Fox or Vinicombe until they need your vote.

You need men who will truthfully discharge their trust.

Day by day, the East End say, we don't want another four years of being in Opposition.

The people want a workman's government, that's why Squires is going to be returned.

Squires and Progress.

Higgins knows Burke's weight and he will know a whole lot more, to his grief, when the ballots are counted.

Bartlett, Bulley and Burke are men with lots of energy and will look after the wants of the people.

Don't make any mistake about it, if the people of Newfoundland turn the Humber down Bennett cannot put it through.

The Humber is for Newfoundland to decide, not a bunch of merchants.

The Tories are doomed to defeat, and they know it.

Fox won't be able to get off that soft soap stuff this time, it won't work.

Squires and Progress or Bennett and Stagnation, that is the issue you have to decide, men of Newfoundland.

Western Bay Votes Cramm and Cave

(To the Editor.)
Western Bay.
April 12, 1923.
The government candidates for the district of Bay de Verde, Cave and Cramm arrived here Thursday from Broad Cove.
In the evening an enthusiastic meeting was held in the Orange Hall, and, although it was a stormy evening the spacious hall was filled to capacity. Many of the people could not find sitting room.
The Chairman, Mr. James M. Crowley, opened the meeting at 8.30 and in a short and witty speech introduced our junior candidate, Mr. R. Cramm, who, when taking the platform was greeted with thunderous applause.

Mr. Cramm in a forceful manner outlined the work of the government, and the destructive tactics of the opposition, pointing out that it was the same crowd who were guilty of such dastardly actions in the House of Assembly, who were trying to regain control of the country in the coming elections.
He asked the electors two straight and forward questions:
(1) Whether they were going to govern themselves or be governed by the merchants?
(2) Whether they were in favour of industrial development of Newfoundland or not.
He clearly pointed out that to vote against "Squires" was to vote against the best interests of the country and would be one of the worst things that could happen.

The second speaker was our old and staunch representative, Mr. W. H. Cave, who with his colleague will be our representatives on the government side for the next four years.
Mr. Cave pointed out that the so-called squandering of the government was in reality not half as much as what the opposition spent last election.
That Bay de Verde did not spend on relief work, one quarter as much as the now opposition spent in 1919 to gain their election.
He said that the meeting was only a preliminary one. He would be around later, when he would have his leader's manifesto to discuss.
The meeting closed at 10 o'clock with the singing of the National Anthem, and cheers for Sir R. A. Squires' party.
(Signed)—James M. Crowley, Chairman; Eli Crammey, Reuben King, Jordon Kennedy.

WHAT ABOUT IT JESSE?

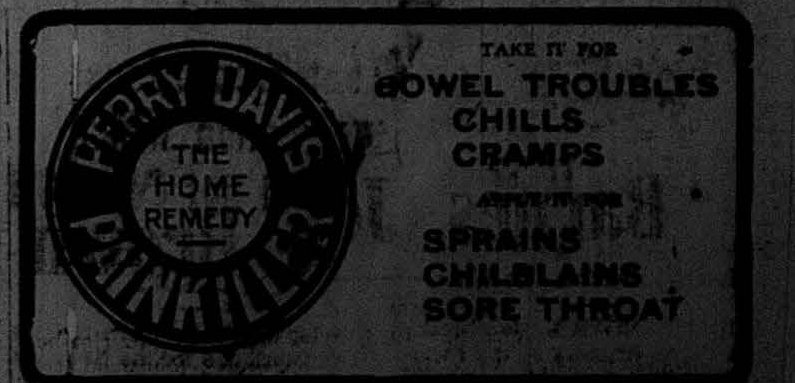

Fair Island,
April 2nd, 1923.

To the Editor.
Dear Mr. Editor.—If any man or body of men can reflect with satisfaction upon anything which they have accomplished, surely they can who conscientiously feel that they have increased the general happiness of the people of a country. It is the present Government, who amidst the most critical times in the country's history has brought the good old ship of state through in a manner that deserves congratulations.

Everyone who manfully fights for the grand old F. P. U. is fully aware of the objectives which our opponents have in view. The war of prejudice and hatred has been forced against the Government and the invincible Coaker, but without result. Each and everyone is now called upon to again unite and treat these assaults delivered by our adversaries as in former years. We must use the ballot papers in the coming election as our weapons to keep those political agitators from gaining a foothold at the expense of the toilers.

One of the latest political agitations issued from the camp of the would-be-Government snatchers is the United Fishermen Movement, of which Capt. Jesse Winsor is Chairman. One of the principal planks in their platform is reduction of taxation. Nothing would be more desirable, and any Government who has the true interest of their country at heart would go a long way to accomplish this.

I believe the present Government have done all that is possible in that direction. I wonder if Capt. Jesse had the same economic idea in the winter of 1921 when operating at North West Brook, Indian Bay, when he asked the good people of Fair Island to give their support to a petition he was forwarding to the Government, asking for telephone connection between the above named place and Wiggville. Had your business continued at this place this something else?

No, who is to blame it this matter? Not our leaders who are striving against financial difficulties and whose opportunities of viewing such are confined to a limited space of a few hours a year? Certainly not, yet the teachers complaint is often met with a poor excuse of our funds will not allow. Will your funds allow your homes to hat? will it allow your children to sit all day facing a blank wall, will it allow them no privy? ages that home would otherwise afford. Yet you say, "Mary is getting careless teacher, about work at home," is it any wonder? when she must in lots of cases spend her days striving to gain a knowledge that will lift her above drudgery in a room that is no better than a storehouse, her sensitive mind grasps the fact that what is good enough for her away, is good enough home, but it should be vice versa, not for our benefit, but for the future of your children and mine, let us strive to co-operation.

One often hears from some tired teachers the words, "I am tired," which invariably brings the reply, "Tired of what? What work have you to be tired?" please remember it is not the work, we realize that we must be tired physically, every toll brings a desire for recreation, without a sense of weariness rest would not be so sweet, and would in itself become a source of fatigue, not tired of work, but tired of the surroundings, tired of the dreary scope of view which even a glance into the great field of work for the young minds under ones care, does not combat; our minds have by a sense of auto-suggestion become dreary and blank as the walls of our daily home.

To alleviate these conditions is not beyond our task, it only needs a hand in hand, allegiance to strive to thrust upward a future generation which will be a credit to their tutors and ancestors, worthy sons and daughters of an almost democratic nation.
Then let us strive to do our best in the time we have at our disposal, if we wait till such great changes come, we may be passed from our sphere of activity, but push onward and attain each and all to make each day better than the last; be satisfied with taught, save perfection, and perchance we yet may find that our path is become smooth and easier, and the load of difficulties is rolling down the other side of the hill, we have reached the crest by the golden link of Co-operation.

Education---Co-operation

Someone remarked awhile ago while speaking of the Education problem confronting us, that there was an end to all worry about such matters that was in the financial means to increase salaries and pay competent teachers.

Such means in my opinion would but serve to draw with our present system of grading, a more incompetency into our ranks, our great and pressing need in our educational work is co-operation, individually and collectively, on the part of the communities, parents especially, with the educational factors and teachers.

If you have a new Vacuum Sweeper, it is the best that money can purchase, yet it lies dormant and the dust accumulates on your costly carpets, why because you have made no effort to put the connecting link into your electric socket, until you do, it cannot perform its duties; so you have educational skill and intrinsic ability at your command and for the lack of the connecting link co-operation—it is practically useless.

Our future position, our progressive and expanding abilities depend on the child of to-day, the future of a whole community, the whole dominion is dependent upon the training our youths obtain to-day, education, not theoretical, but practical as needed and is essential to a full growth with the tide of the times, and yet some parent will carelessly remark and probably he means it too, that he cannot see what John or Jane needs fooling with half the trash they learn. I wonder does he think his freedom and home "trash"? Does he think his free country and peaceful existence "trash"? but enough of cant, be it enough to say that the only means of uplifting our old world from the sloughs into which she has fallen, is by means of such "trash".

The only combative factor for the present "Red Peril" socialism and ignorance, which like some backward

ANOTHER PIPE DREAM VANISHES

A West End Voter wanted to know if it is impossible for the Telegram to tell a serious truth concerning political R. Bennett and A. E. Higgins arrived from Mr. Grace on night. The Telegram on reports Bennett and Higgins turn as getting a tremendous reception. Here are the facts: there were less than 100 persons at the Railway Station when the train arrived at 11.30 p.m. The committee was on hand to do the cheering, so were Mr. W. J. Higgins and Cyril Fox present to hear Bennett's speech made in reference to Archibald, who is regarded as such a dead one, that Mr. Bennett did not even consider worth mentioning. Higgins played like a clam. Higgins played questions and Cyril did nothing into his uncles' but Albert E. was lame decision to contest Mr. Higgins particularly sore, that Mr. Lewis Dawe had $1000 bet bluff.

All four got into the cab and drove home. From conversations with friends it is acknowledged that while Higgins held by him were, there was no enthusiasm as a party leader entering for the first time might expect to receive. In regard he regarded himself as

Higgins Meeting at Mines, Bell Isld. Ended With Ringing Cheers For Squires and Coaker

Fox is Heckled; Vinicombe Is a Gonner Higgins Badly Scared

BELL ISLAND. (By Phone to-day)

The Mines put the lid on last night when the Tory candidates held their meeting in the C.L.B. Armory. The speakers were continually interrupted and Fox was badly heckled. N. X. is picked anyway. The Tory trio, are Vickers, holding four meetings on the Island, something that they never did before. They are badly scared. The usual stuff will not go this time as the people are wise. At the end of Fox's talk ringing cheers were given for Coaker which electrified the meeting and when cheers were called for Sir Richard Squires, the crowd simply went wild. There were about 470 people present.

Mr. Spencer and others asked a number of questions to which no satisfactory answers were forthcoming. The straw vote here shows that the people do not want the merchants' party of which Higgins, Fox and Vinicombe are the representatives. At the close of the meeting last night, ringing cheers were given for Bartlett, Bulley and Burke.

There is a marked change in the feeling here and Bell Isld. will stand solidly behind Sir Richard Squires. The gentlemen who trip easily from one side to the other are looking very sedate to-day. Their dream of Higgins, Fox and Vinicombe being re-elected has turned out a chimera.

We are standing by the three B's, Sir Richard Squires and the Government that will open up our country.

(Special to The Advocate) BONAVENTURE, April 17—Great enthusiastic meeting of the F.P.U. Council was held here last night. People longing for Polling Day to cast their votes for Messrs. Halfyard Hibbs and Randell. I estimate that 90 per cent. of the electors of this place will vote for the winning team. It is generally believed that the Tory trio will lose their nomination deposits in this district. We have not had a visit from our worthy members yet but we expect to see them shortly.

For Grimes and Good Times

(Special to The Advocate) CARMANVILLE, April 18—The firing of a gun on the outskirts of this settlement at 7 p.m. yesterday was the signal of Mr. Grimes' arrival. Immediately muskets began to blaze forth and flags flew from many homes, indicating that there were many more than 50 per cent. of the electorate here who are going to stand by Grimes and good times. At 8.30 a public meeting was held in the Orange Hall, with Mr. Elias Chaulek in the chair. At the close of a vigorous and informal address of one and three quarters hours, ringing cheers were given for the Government and Mr. Grimes.

West End Has No Use for the Tories

A West Ender in Tuesday's News writes of the days of Liberalism in the West End, and while doing so, puts both feet into it. He tells of the cold wave which struck the Tories in St. John's West in the days of Whiteway, Bond and Morris. If I mistake not, the Tories of that day who got whipped to a frazzle, consisted of a Monroe an Ayre and other Tory merchants, whose, whose progeny are now out as candidates for the Cashin-Crosbie-Morine-Bennett outfit.

Morine defeated Monroe because Liberal St. John's West refused to be politically and commercially manacled by Water Street Toryism. Squires will defeat the same influences in St. John's West with his programme of industrial freedom, which he is laying before the people. The sons of the men who followed Morris will be found on Polling Day voting for Squires. Cashin on every occasion that he got in the House and at public functions took occasion to grossly insult Lord Morris. The Board of Trade did likewise. Bennett, whom he took from obscurity and introduced into the public life of the Colony, ran away from St. John's to Hawke's Bay with Sid Cotton for a chum while Lord Morris was visiting his native land last summer. Every honest Morris man will resent the political boot-legging of Cashin on Polling Day. The Old Guard may be laying low, but like the soft falling snow flakes of the April morn will the ballots drop against Cashin in St. John's West on May 3rd. Who sent for him anyway?

The intelligence of St. John's West will teach Cashin a lesson on May 3rd. He got one in the bye-election. This time a second and strong solution will be injected into him.

A MORRIS MAN.

BAY DEVERDE GIVES CAVE AND CRAMM A BIG RECEPTION

(Special to The Advocate.) BAY DE VERDE, April 18—The Government candidates, Cave and Cramm, held a meeting here last night, the most successful and enthusiastic political meeting ever held at Bay de Verde. James F. O'Neil occupied the chair and in introducing the candidates took the audience completely by surprise. He delivered a strong and very effective address and in the course of his speech was repeatedly cheered and clapped. Both Cave and Cramm were received with enthusiasm and listened to with rapt attention. As they told of the destructive tactics of the Opposition and of the effort of the Government and the Prime Minister to care for the people and provide employment, the building rang with cheers. At the close cheers were called for Premier Squires, Cave and Cramm and the response surpassed everything ever witnessed here.
